

Asialink Business, Ashurst and the Australia - Japan Society of Victoria are delighted to invite you to:

Women in Leadership - Enhancing opportunities in Australia-Japan working environments

Representing cross sector experience in business, government and academia, our panelists will share and discuss some of the unique leadership challenges that women face in Australian-Japanese working environments.

The conversation will include practical tips on leadership, sponsoring and influencing, and what support is available to aspiring women leaders to assist with career mobility with a focus on the Australia-Japan space. The discussion will also canvas the important role played by male champions of change.
